Resources:

06.09.24 PPT

A6 pieces of plain paper - these could be shaped to represent your animal.

Resources to decorate- pencils, felt tips

Starter: Speaking and Listening

Warm up discussion: Can you spot the 10 differences between the pictures?

Work through PPT:

Children to sit in a circle, if possible, or so that everyone can see each other.

Welcome all children to their Family Group and introduce new members. Why have we joined together today?

Why do you think we are together with people from different classes (your 'family' in school)?

Consolidate with the children that our school is a Gold Rights Respecting School, and that we are going to continue to meet in our groups regularly to discuss children's rights in our school, our community and all over the world. We will learn more about children's rights, discuss how we will respect them and think about how we can help other children get their rights.

Remind children of the different Family Groups in school.

Explain the reward voucher system for rights respecting behaviour - children to be awarded rights respecting cards for respecting rights. They should collect these in their Family Group 'packet' in the classroom and then bring them to Family Groups when they meet. The total number of cards for each group should be written on a post-it and put on the shelf at the front of the hall before assembly so that the group with the highest total can be rewarded.

Create a Family Group Charter, e.g.:

In our Rabbits Group we are going to...

- respect and praise each other
- listen carefully to the speaker
- be kind, caring and polite
- work as a team and get involved
- play together and have fun

On the A6 paper children should draw themselves for the Family Group display.

Slide 10:

Fairtrade Fortnight is our annual celebration of all things Fairtrade, whilst raising awareness for the need for fairer trade to support farmers in lower income countries. This year is an extra special Fairtrade Fortnight because we are celebrating 30 years of the Fairtrade movement in the UK. Whether you are a pupil, teacher, shopper or politician, we can all be the change this Fairtrade Fortnight, by joining the global Fairtrade movement to change trade for the better. 30 years of Fairtrade sales have meant a lot to farmers, giving them more power and driving real change in their communities.

Slide 12:

Talk about Fairtrade farmers and how Fairtrade has impacted their lives. Dabilla is a Fairtrade cocoa farmer in Côte d'Ivoire. He has been a cocoa farmer for over 30 years. Farmers who grow the cocoa we love can earn as little as 80p per day. It's just not enough to meet their basic needs. But with Fairtrade, Dabilla's gets a Fairtrade Minimum Price for his cocoa and a Fairtrade Premium with which his community was able to build a school, canteen and install a water pump. Most of Dabilla's children attended this school.

Dabilla tells us:

'I did not have the chance to continue my studies, but with Fairtrade and our plantations, I can pay for the children's studies. This is my pride, because the children are the future.'

But every day, farmers around the world tell us it's harder than ever to grow the products we love - like bananas and chocolate - because of unfair trading practices and the impacts of climate change. Without Fairtrade, farmers in lower income countries can't afford to put food on the table, send their children to school, cover their farm costs, and adapt to the changing climate. This year, we are asking everyone to 'Be the Change'.

It's more than just being aware. It's about an active choice to support Fairtrade farmers and workers around the world, wherever possible, to ensure they can earn a fairer wage. When you choose Fairtrade, you help ensure farmers receive a fairer price for what they grow. When you choose Fairtrade, farmers can give their kids the opportunities they deserve. When you choose Fairtrade, farmers can unite in the fight against climate change.
